Floats and campus decorations are being planned, beards are growing and senior coeds are dreaming of a queen's crown as Wartburg plans for its 1957 Homecoming, now only two weeks away.

Parade chairman Arnold Frerichs, junior, has announced that bands appearing in the parade will come from Tripoli, Strawberry Point, Denver, Shell Rock, Garnaville and Waverly high schools, in addition to the Wartburg Band.

Eighteen floats, sponsored by Waverly merchants, will also be entered in the parade. Frerichs expressed his desire that students cooperate with the float chairmen, so that this year's parade may compete with the standards set by parades during past Homecomings.

chairman, has also announced plans for the beard-growing contest and the special contest being conducted in cooperation with the Trumpet to name the new men's dorm. Stauffer's Drug Store of Waverly has donated an electric razor, which will be awarded to the winner of the beard contest between acts of Kastle Kapers.

Tickets are on sale for the Homecoming Banquet now, and tickets for the Homecoming Dance will go on sale Tuesday. Theme for the semi-formal event will be "Autumn Knight," and decorations will follow this theme. Music for the dance will be provided by Jack Otis' orchestra, Des Moines.

Primary elections for the Homecoming queen will be held during Thursday's convo. All senior girls are eligible, while junior girls may be elected to the Court of Honor.

A complete line of Homecoming novelties, including pennants, shakers, bells and balloons, will go on sale early during Homecoming week. An impressive Homecoming button, featuring a Wartburg Knight and a Dubuque Spartan, will also be on sale.

W-Club Names Mueller Queen

Donna Mueller, sophomore from Westchester, Ill., will reign as Wartburg Fall Sports Queen.

She will be crowned by Athletic Director Ax Bundgaard during the halftime of the Loras-Wartburg football game this afternoon. Attending her will be sophomore Delores McMahan, Silver City, and freshman Jane Becker, Oak Lawn, Ill.

Miss Mueller was elected by the "W" Club at its meeting Tuesday night. She is the first of three sports queens to be elected by the lettermen's group this year.

Donna, a member of Castle Singers, is planning to become a laboratory technician.

Politics Emphasized In Convocations

Question Of Student Body Meetings Major Issue Faced By Senators

By Joan Pape

"Are student body meetings outdated?" was the main question under discussion at last Monday's Student Senate meeting. Other business of the senate included the acceptance of a traffic recommendation proposal and a decision to draw up a suggestion for a campus chest.

Preceding discussion of the Student Body meeting question, Vice President Charles Maahs presented brief outlines of student government and meetings from pamphlets by former student body presidents. The subject was then thrown open to the group. Some of the major points raised were:

—1. More publicity should be given to the fact that Student Body meetings are open to the public;

—2. Student Body meetings are to a great extent useless, since all that is accomplished is simple voting. The students want to keep the meetings because it means a free hour!

—3. It isn't necessary that all meetings be abolished;

—4. Would the abolishment of Student Body meetings weaken student government?

—5. If Student Body meetings were abolished, how could a closer communication between senators and students be formed?

More Study Needed

Further research will be done on the subject before any action is taken.

The traffic program approved by the senate and recommended to the dean of students will limit parking in certain restricted areas. Fines will be assessed for any violations of restrictions.

Campus Chest proposal will be presented to the Student Body at next Tuesday's convocation. Student interest was already indicated in a straw vote taken at the last Student Body meeting.

Give Away

Purpose of a Campus Chest is to give the students an opportunity to contribute to charity in one fund. A general board selected by the senate decides how the money is to be apportioned among various local, national and international charitable organizations.

Wartburg has already had one drive in 1955-56. A vote on the proposal will be taken at Thursday's convocation.

Cast Completed

The two uncast men's parts in the Wartburg Players' fall play, "The Hasty Heart," are now filled, according to Vernon Lestrud, director. The part of Tommy went to Don Claussen, sophomore, and the part of Blossom, the Negro, to Bob Kroeger, senior.

Smoke Signal

If smokers are not more careful in the Student Union, the smoking privilege will be revoked, warns the Student Union Council. Furniture scarred by cigarette burns and ashes littering the floors are causes of the ultimatum.

Scholar? Then Read This

How would you like to be an alumnus of Oxford University? Or would you rather do graduate work in this country without the specter of money haunting you?

The magic carpets fulfilling the aforementioned dreams are the Rhodes Scholarships and the Danforth Graduate Fellowships, open only to men.

Two or three men under 30 years of age from Wartburg may be nominated for the Danforth Fellowship through Dean John O. Chellevoid. Students with outstanding character who are preparing for college teaching are eligible for the fellowship, which may be applied to any accredited university in the United States.

January Deadline

Applications are due Jan. 31, 1958. Further information may be obtained from Chellevoid.

In addition to the male prerequisite, a Rhodes scholar must possess a record of scholastic and athletic attainments, good character and distinctive qualities. To be eligible, a candidate must be an unmarried U. S. citizen between the ages of 19 and 25 and at least a junior at a recognized college or university which officially endorses him. Study choice is unlimited.

December Election

Applications should be made to the secretary of the state committee by Nov. 6. Elections to the scholarships will be made in December.

Both senior men and women are eligible for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowships, which normally include $1,400 a year plus tuition. A faculty member must nominate the fellowship candidate, who should have high intellect, character and personality.

The Wilson Fellowships are available for first-year graduate work leading to a career in college teaching. The program has been expanded to include natural sciences and mathematics in addition to humanities and social sciences. The number of scholarships has been increased from 200 to 1,000 a year.

Nominations are to be sent to the chairman of the regional committee before Nov. 9.

Bjorgan Attends Asian Convention At Twin Cities

G. Rudolph Bjorgan, History Department, is attending the sixth annual Conference on Asian Affairs Oct. 11 and 12 at Macalester College, St. Paul, Minn. Bjorgan is president of the group.

Sponsored jointly by Macalester College and the University of Minnesota, and supported financially by the Hill Foundation in Area Study, the conference attracts representatives of schools from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico and from the Appalachians to the Rockies. These representatives are mainly specialists and people interested in Asian affairs.

Not only was Bjorgan elected president of the conference last year, but he is also a charter member of the organization and for many years was the only representative from this area.

Scheduled to speak at Friday's banquet was Prof. Harold Vinacke, of the University of Cincinnati, an authority on the Far East. His topic was "India's Position in Far Eastern Politics."

Highlighting Political Emphasis Week will be the two regular convocations next Tuesday and Thursday. Each of the two major political parties, Democrats and Republicans, will have representatives from Iowa here to speak to the students.

William G. Murray, who has announced his candidacy for nomination for Governor of Iowa on the Republican ticket, will speak on behalf of that party at Tuesday's convocation. Honorable Representative Merwin Coad, Democrat from Iowa's Sixth District, will address the students and faculty at convocation on Thursday.

Born at Cedar Rapids, Mr. Murray received his education at Coe College, Harvard University, Iowa State College and the University of Minnesota. Since 1928 he has been Professor of Agricultural Economics in the Department of Economics and Sociology at Iowa State College. Murray was head of that department from 1944-1955.

Friend of Farmers

In line with his special fields of interest, farm valuation and appraisal, and farm finance and taxation, Murray served as president of the American Farm Economics Association in 1948-49, and is at present chairman of the Property Tax Equalization Committee of the National Tax Association. In addition, Mr. Murray has conducted research and written books and bulletins in these special fields.

Murray's many other activities have included serving on various economic councils and committees as well as acting as chairman of the Ames Board of Education. He is married and has two sons and one daughter. A member of the Collegiate Presbyterian Church of Ames, Murray serves as elder, trustee and moderator of the Waterloo Presbytery.

Key Man

Merwin Coad, now of Boone, was born in Kansas, and then lived in Nebraska until he was graduated from high school. After graduating from Texas Christian University at Fort Worth in 1945, Coad took graduate studies at TCU of Fort Worth, Brite College of the Bible, and Drake University in Des Moines.

In 1943 Phillips University of Enid, Okla., presented Coad the Blue Key Award for outstanding campus and community service.

Mr. Coad is an active member in Kiwanis Club International, Des Moines River Council on Flood Control, Iowa Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the Junior Chamber of Commerce at Boone, as well as being active in Boy Scout work. He was elected to the 85th Congress on November 6, 1956.

A minister of the Disciples of Christ, Coad is married and has three daughters and one son, ranging in age from two to eleven.

Snap Course

Fortress group pictures will be taken tomorrow in Knights Gym beginning at 12:45 p.m. All persons are requested to be on time, according to Len Flachman, year-book editor.

For You — Danforth Chapel

By Marsha Starck
Danforth Chapel — what do these two words mean to you? Two years ago Danforth Chapel was dedicated and set apart for the sole purpose of meditation and prayer. How long has it been since you have withdrawn from the world of confusion into the quiet peace of God?

It was an expressed student demand that brought the meditation chapel into focus and later a $5,000 gift from the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., that made the chapel a realization. Is there such reservation and hesitancy in us that makes us ashamed or embarrassed to be seen coming or leaving a house of prayer?

Each of us from the Wartburg family should take five minutes of our urgently busy day and make use of this inspiring chapel. Structurally united with the Student Memorial Union, the Danforth Chapel is nevertheless a distinct architectural unit. A small tower on the side lifts the eyes of the visitors upward.

While you are meditating, notice the magnificent oil reproduction of Hoffmann's "Christ in Gethsemane" which hangs on the left wall. Perhaps a ray of warming sunshine will enter the chapel through the panels of the stained glass window to the right.

Appropriately for a Christian liberal arts college, the theme of the symbolism in the central panel of the window is Christianity; of the left panel, Virtue; and of the right panel, Knowledge. Together they represent the spiritual heritage of you—college youth.

Within the walls of Wartburg's chapel, there will be two—you and God—in one. How could anyone leave such a quiet, and beautiful chapel without being refreshed or closer to God?

Within the recent year a resolution passed by the Religious Activities Committee has made it possible for the chapel to be used by small groups. The resolution noted that the continued use of the chapel be largely encouraged for private meditation. It states that small groups, by making reservations in the Chaplain's Office, be permitted and encouraged to use the chapel from 7:30-8:30 p.m. daily.

It is also possible by making reservation and announcement to have meditation periods conducted from time to time. The first of these alternatives has been sparingly used in the past; however, the latter possibility has never been used.

This is our chapel. It is not there merely to adorn the campus. The amount we benefit is entirely up to us.

Danforth Chapel—these two words should mean something to you.

WHIRLED AFFAIRS

No, You're Not Drunk — There Are Two Moons

By Bob Mayer

Today there is hurtling through space, 560 miles from the earth's surface, a small metal sphere moving at a speed of 18,000 m.p.h. This is the world's first earth satellite.

Last week in one dramatic leap the Soviet Union captured the imagination and perhaps fear of an entire world. In a lightning technological advance, Russian scientists made it possible for the Soviet Union to successfully launch the world's first earth satellite, with even greater advances yet to come. The significance of this accomplishment was enough to stagger even the most obtuse of minds.

Since that time, volumes of comments have issued forth — many intelligent, others merely stupid enough to be lost in the mire of their own short-sightedness. Surely the satellite left in its wake many unanswered questions, but while alarmists cried "Beware" others devoted their efforts towards a saner, more complete analysis of exactly what the artificial moon means.

To the scientist unconcerned with political eventualities the satellite could only be of greatest import. But the American mind seemed inordinately concerned with political consequences.

A feeling of uneasy insecurity has replaced that assured air of complacency previously secured by American arms superiority. The inevitable result has been blind rationalization — to convince ourselves that it is really insignificant, in the long run.

Plainly, Russian science has unquestionably proved itself capable of achievements as great as if not greater than ours and what is more at a far speedier pace. The success of the satellite makes apparent the eventual establishment of stations in space, and ultimately this would entail a new race for supremacy.

This supremacy would imply virtual control of the earth's surface. Scientifically these stations would make possible deeper and more effective explorations into the universe with telescopes, cameras and radios.

Are the implications of the "baby moon," then, largely political or are they scientific? The answer probably lies in neither of these two extremes.

But no matter how far science progresses, it will never be more than a mere tool in the hands of men, and men in turn are in the tools of their own ideology. That force which can control the mind will inevitably shape the future.

Wherever the ultimate answer may lie, men should be awakened by the rumbling of that new era, which till now existed only as ideas in the minds of a few. A new frontier has been opened to man, but for every inch of progress made, the world must pay the high price of increased insecurity and tension.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

IM Sport Added, Growing In CAF

Have you played the new game lately? It's called "Sav-a-place." The object of the game is to make friends. This works on the same principle as the atom bomb.

Here's how you play it: Someone who doesn't have an 11 o'clock class gets into the south cafeteria line about 11:45. When the bell rings at 11:50, you tell as many people as you can to come because you have saved a place in line for them. They in turn tell their friends to come because they already have a place saved for them. They in turn tell their friends, and so on.

The real object is for one person to save a place for everyone else in the college.

Right at the beginning, when you can only get eight or ten people to come to your place in line, there are slightly hostile feelings from the person who was sixth in line before serving and 18th in line when the serving starts. Once you get these few "radicals" to see the point of the game, then you have gained another friend who can save a place for 10 or 12 or more people. See — just like nuclear fission.

It helps if you are an upper-classman to start the game

Bracklein

It's all over but the bragging. Don't be surprised if you see an 8x10 picture of Milwaukee on the front page of the Trumpet. Harold and Duane are happy. It's always easier to turn in my column late when they are happy. That means only 50 lashes this week.

What I can't understand is why the Yankees didn't goof up like that when they were playing the White Sox.

Know what a foible is? Mr. Webster refers to it as, "a small weakness," but college columnists like to think of it as column material. An example of such is the girl who walked into Prof. Schick's seven o'clock Christianity class at 7:45 thinking she was late for her eight o'clock class in the same room. She quite calmly walked in front of Schick, who was lecturing away, and sat down.

Or maybe the freshman girl who wrote down a boys' phy ed class on her registration card. Needless to say, the faculty took a dim view of the idea.

Students who have only four convo cuts during a semester sometimes look with envy upon the faculty section and notice the huge empty spaces.

No, Milwaukee fans, that is not Crandall's home run you see still circumnavigating the earth. That's just Russia's satellite, Sputnik, floating around.

Here's a corny story that a student gave me a few weeks ago: A man got one of those Chinese fortune cookies in a restaurant the other day. When he opened the slip of paper to read his fortune, it said: "Congratulations, Occidental friend, you now have Asiatic Flu."

How's this for real Wartburg loyalty? Cy Waincott, former editor of the Trumpet, reports that he will fly all the way from Ashland, Ohio, to attend Homecoming. He expects to take a plane.

going because it's easier for an upperclassman to make friends and also to try to discredit any lowly freshman from starting another game of "Sav-a-place."

If you want to have fun you better get started today because some of the senior and sophomore girls already have a "game" of about fifteen persons going, and at that rate it won't be long before they win and have all the students as their friends.

To the Editor:

Any attempts to brand me a heretic in the IM athletics are unjustified, callous and cruel. Here at Cotta, we comply with the rules of recruiting as specified by Sports Illustrated and the NCAA (Tug Wilson, commissioner).

Our record is so clear that not even Estes Kefauver could find anything worth investigating. Our refrigerator is even empty.

Like we like to say over here at Cotta House, "Let's close the ranks and carry on."

Knights Face Duhawks Today

Jomen Tip Buena Vista

By Staff Writers

When the referee signals for the opening kickoff at 1:30 this afternoon in Knights Stadium, the Wartburg eleven will be after their first victory in history over the Loras Duhawks.

Coach Norm Johansen's gridders will be in their best physical condition since the fall campaign opened. The flu bug sidelined a couple of freshman backs earlier in the week, but the pair will be suited up for today's contest.

Sahling Back

Knight squad received a shot in the arm this week when Don Sahling rejoined the ranks. The sophomore guard broke a thumb two days before the opening encounter with Parsons, and missed the first three contests. A real sparkplug in Jo's line last season, Sahling may be available for some game duty today.

Loras, coached by Charles

CHARGING UPFIELD on a punt return is senior halfback Ralph Wolken at Saturday's tilt with Buena Vista. The Knights went on to win 21-6.

Coach Johansen

Toole, has 10 lettermen back this season. The Duhawks, having offensive troubles this season, have been able to cross the double chalks only twice in three contests. They dropped their opening tilt to St. Thomas 20-0, then fell to Winona State 30-7 and St. Norbert's 29-7.

Wartburg has tangled with the Dubuque school on four previous occasions and has come out on the short end of the score each time. Loras racked the Knights 26-2 in their last meeting in 1953.

Coach Norm Johansen's charges pulled another mild upset last Saturday as they dealt Buena Vista a 21-6 pounding. Knights were a far cry from the team beaten by Upper Iowa the week before. A fumble recovered on the BV 15-yard line started the ball rolling, as the Knights then proceeded to march on to pay dirt. It was BV's first conference defeat of the season. Wartburg now stands at 2-1 in the conference.

Backs Plunge

A pair of fullbacks from Fontanelle, Larry Raper and Gary Queck, were the work-horses of the day, as they carried the ball 25 times between them for a total of 95 yards. Arnie Brandt played a sparkling game on defense.

Knights stopped scoring drives and jarred loose fumbles a number of times to their advantage, as they were outgained by Ibach and Co. in all departments. A couple of booming punts by Wayne Dreier, one good for 61 yards from scrimmage, managed to keep the Jomen out of trouble when the offense stalled.

Fullback Rushes To W-Club Title

"Ball carried by Raper," rang the voice over the loudspeaker as fullback Larry Raper chugged his way to Athlete of the Month honors.

Knights' sensational sophomore candidate for all-conference fullback honors has carried the ball 51 times in leading the team to two victories in its first three outings.

Raper, who hails from Fontanelle, has accounted for 268 yards in his sorties through hostile lines for an average of 5.25 per carry. He has carried the ball on almost one-third of the Knights' offensive plays.

LET'S MEET FRIENDS

You Think You're Busy?
Then Take A Look Here

Hil

Fall comes, bringing many things—the colorful trees, the smell of burning leaves, the chill of the first frost, the World Series, Homecoming, tests and a multitude of things to take up a busy student's time.

Sunday will be a busy day. Fortress organizational group pictures will be taken in the afternoon. Everyone should be present in plenty of time, as the photographer will wait for no one. If you are not present, you will not be in the picture.

Frenz

Editor Len Flachman informs me that he would prefer that you do not wear black or white. Shades of these are OK. And, freshmen, don't complain about having your afternoon broken up. Last year there was some trouble and we had to go through the picture-taking session twice!

The topic for the Chi Rho meeting sounds as though it would be of real interest to pre-thes. "Chaplaincy" will be Dr. Milton Koults subject. That's at 1:30 in the Fine Arts Center. Your pictures will be taken at 12:45, by the way.

Sunday evening finds the members of APO dramatics fraternity, initiating their pledge, Bill Melvin, senior.

Are schools in Turkey much different from ours? Deniz Oguzlu, freshman from Turkey, will answer that question at the Student Education Association meeting. Monday is the day, 7 p.m. the time and the Fine Arts Center the place.

• • • • •

Wartburg Women's Club will meet at 7:45 on Wednesday. A panel discussion on "Beautifying Your Yard" will be presented by Mrs. C. H. Becker, moderator, Mrs. Martin Wiederanders and Mrs. William Liebau. The hostesses are Miss Stella Austerud, Miss Eldora Flugga, Mrs. W. G. Fruehling and Mrs. Waldemar Gies.

• • • • •

More yet. Passavant Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 in Grossmann Hall Lounge. President Gordon Hanson tells me that the featured speaker will be Harold Frey, worker at the Children's Home.

The Wartburg "lineup" will start Monday morning when students begin reserving their seats for the first Artist Series production of the year. For the information of the freshmen, any time between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday you can reserve your seats in the treasurer's office. Upperclassmen know the story, and you'll find out soon enough! Incidentally, you need your student activity ticket.

• • • • •

I think you will agree with me that this is plenty of activity for this week. Oh, yes, let's all get out this afternoon at 1:30 and help our Knights "Lower Loras."

Bye
